MEMORANDUM FOR: Deputy to the DCI for the Intelligence Community
SUBJECT : Critical Collection Problems Committee (CCPC)

Dan -

As an item of NFIB business, CIA was asked to concur with the recommendation that Eloise Page be designated as Chairman (vice Acting Chairman) of the CCPC. In recognition of her splendid work and achievements, I most heartily and readily agree.

The subject, however, does raise the question of whether or not the CCPC should be continued. The Committee, in my view, may have outgrown its usefulness, given the DCI collection committees, substantive committees, the NIO structure, PRM analysis procedures, and the IC Staff review mechanism. Major tasks presently being handled by the CCPC, e.g., Korea, International Terrorism, could be done, probably more expeditiously through the NIO functional organization or through ad hoc tasking and joint study by existing line organizations.

I leave it to you whether or not to put this issue to the DCI for decision.

E. H. Knoche
CIA Member, NFIB

Bob:

The attached was addressed directly to DDCI in rather an informal way, as you can see. He would prefer that we take it up in the usual manner. Please do the needful, coordinating with DDO et al, as necessary. Many thanks.

MEMORANDUM FOR: Admiral Stansfield Turner, US Navy
Chairman, NFIB

FROM : Admiral Daniel J. Murphy, US Navy
Vice Chairman, NFIR

SUBJECT : Designation of Miss Eloise Page as Chairman,
DCI Critical Collection Problems Committee

1. I recommend you designate Miss Eloise Page as Chairman, DCI Critical Collection Problems Committee (CCPC).
2. Miss Page has served as Acting Chairman, CCPC, since 1972. Under her leadership, the Committee has grappled with a number of problem areas and has produced comprehensive, useful studies on critical items, such as international narcotics intelligence collection. Nearing completion is a study on international terrorism intelligence collection. Also underway is a special study on the problem of early warning in Korea.

3. Pursuant to authority contained in Director of Central Intelligence

Eloise:

I hope you know that my position concerning CCPC has nothing whatsoever to do with the very high esteem in which I hold you and your work, now and throughout the past in the Agency.

You are a strong and essential intelligence officer and I would not pleasure a future without your continuing good work in our midst.
